Teaching activity:

In addition to teaching the above courses I keep developing the teaching material. I wrote textbooks and compiled exercise books for students.

As the coordinator of correspondence courses I used to organize the schedule and textbook supply of the correspondence students from 2003. I was involved in developing the curriculum for specialisations in correspondence education.

I assist students who make their research papers or theses in the statistical evaluation of the results.

I had two students winning at the National Scientific Student Conference. One of them received a second prize and the other student won a special award.
